FATAL SHOT

Fired Into the Body of Victor Caperton by John Damron.

Killing Occurred on the Streets of Louisa Last Saturday Evening as Result of Trivial Quarrel.

Shortly after six o'clock on last Saturday evening an affray occurred on Main Cross street, this city, between William Caperton and Victor and Fred, his sons, on the one side and John Damron on the other, which resulted in the fatal shooting of Victor Caperton. Concerning the origin of the difficulty, as well as the various phases of the fatal meeting, there are almost as many versions as there were witnesses of the killing. All, however, are agreed that the trouble began in the barber shop of George Atkins, located on the West side of the street, between the stores of W. D. Pierce and J. B. Crutcher. William Caperton and John Damron were both in the shop, but there was nothing in the demeanor of the two men that would indicate any bad feeling between them until Damron said something about getting a musical instrument to play at some sort of a gathering. Caperton then said something at which Damron took offense. The two men at once began to quarrel, and while so engaged, it is said that Victor and Fred Caperton entered the shop and joined in the wrangle. At this point the story has different versions. Some say that Damron was led out of the front door by the sons, while others say he went into the street, followed by the Capertons. Upon reaching the street, Caperton drew a .38 calibre revolver and warned them to keep back, but the advance continued and three bullets sped from his weapon—two, then a brief interval, and two more in rapid succession. Some witnesses say that the first two shots were fired at William and Fred Caperton, missing their mark, and that it was the third shot that caught Victor. Others say it was the second shot that struck Victor. Immediately after he was shot, Victor fell forward, his hands touching the ground, but with great effort he straightened up and started to the hospital. He walked nearly all the way there with the assistance of one man. He displayed wonderful nerve, but when near the building he began to sink and had to be carried in. He was suffering intensely and prayed to be relieved from his great pain. Later he prayed God to have mercy upon him. As soon as possible he was chloroformed and Drs. York and Bromley operated in the vain hope of saving his life. The ball had passed through the seventh rib, near the breast bone, ranging to the right and downward, perforating the intestines in three places. The bullet was not found. Death from shock and hemorrhage occurred about two o'clock Sunday morning. Caperton received a terrible wound in the abdomen several years ago from which few thought he would ever recover. The operation performed last Saturday for his relief showed how desperately he had been hurt, and further that as a result of that injury his liver was seriously affected so much so that it would have caused his death at some no distant day.

About 24 hours after Caperton's tragic death he was buried in the Fulkerson cemetery. The weather was intensely hot and it was not possible to keep the body any longer. Preceding the burial appropriate services, conducted by the Rev. W. L. Reid, of the Southern Methodist church, were held at the home. A large number of friends of the family attended, and many followed the body to the grave. Caperton was about 34 or 35 years old and married.

cupboard two or three feet from the floor and made a big hole in a mandolin. The third bullet could not be traced or found.

After the shooting, Damron, who is a young married man, walked slowly away in the direction of his home in West Louisa. Search was made for him, but up to this hour he has not been apprehended.

Teacher's Institute.

Supt. O'Daniel informs the public through the News that Mr. M. F. Winfrey, of Middlesboro, will conduct the Lawrence county institute, beginning in Louisa August 8. Mr. O'Daniel has also engaged Miss Gray as conductor of the primary department. Mr. Winfrey's reputation as a teacher and conductor of institutes is too well known to require further notice. It was a good action on part of the Superintendent to secure the service of a competent teacher for the conduct of that often neglected feature of an institute, instruction in the manner of taking care of the beginning pupil. The date is a good one, as it does not conflict with anything.

Consolidates Coal Properties.

The Kentucky River Consolidated Coal Co., of Ashland, Ky., has incorporated with an authorized capital stock of $1,000,000. Its incorporators include John F. Hager, president; J. W. M. Stewart, B. E. Whitman and James G. Serrey, all of Ashland, and John M. Hopkins, of Catlettsburg, Ky. With reference to the enterprise the Manufacturers' Record is informed that the new company assembles into one holding properties which have heretofore been separately owned by the same interests. Plans for development have not been decided.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

July 23rd is Date for the County Congressional Gatherings.

Pursuant to the call of its Chairman, Wm. A. Young, the Democratic Executive Committee of the Ninth Congressional District of the State of Kentucky met in the Court House at Morehead, Rowan county, Kentucky, at 11 o'clock, A. M. June 28th, 1910, for the purpose of determining the time and manner of nominating a Democratic candidate for Congress in said District, to be voted for at the November Election 1910. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Wm. A. Young. All the counties in the district were represented by delegates or by proxy. W. A. Young being the proxy for Lawrence. The various aspirants for the nomination were present and spoke briefly. It was agreed that County Mass Conventions be held at the County Seat in each County on July 23rd, 1910, at two o'clock, P. M. standard for the purpose of selecting delegates who shall assemble and hold a District Nominating Convention on July 27th, 1910, at 10:30 o'clock, A. M., standard time.

In accordance with the party law, and upon motion to that effect, the basis of representation, for each County, in the District Convention was fixed at one (1) vote for each two hundred (200) votes and fraction over one hundred (100) votes cast in each county for the Democratic candidates for Presidential Electors at the November Election, 1908.

Carlisle, Nicholas-co., was unanimously chosen as the place for holding District Convention Wednesday, July 27th, 1910.

Real Estate Sale.

John Gartin has sold his Lock avenue residence to Roscoe Murray, possession given at once. The consideration was $1600. Mr. Murray is one of the College faculty and will occupy his purchase.

Council held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, all present except J. B. Peters. After the reports of the various officers much conversation ensued, and during a lull the board adjourned.

Particulars of Miss Diamond's Wedding

The News has received the following notice of the marriage of a young lady, formerly of this city: Miss Florence Pearl Diamond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Diamond, and Mr. Chas. E. Baker, of Table Grove, Illinois, were united in marriage at two o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of the bride, in the north part of town.

Only relatives and a very few friends were present at the wedding, which was solemnized by Rev. Senior, of the Episcopal church.

The bride wore a beautiful costume of white and carried a large bouquet. The interior of the Diamond home was decorated in pink and white, and after the wedding ceremony those present were served with an elegant wedding dinner. The bridal couple was to leave upon the evening train for the home of the groom at Table Grove. They will start upon their wedding trip in a few days, taking a steamer at St. Louis and going to Albany, mostly by way of the river and Great Lakes.

Mr. Baker is a traveling salesman, who carries the grip for a dental supply house. The people he has met, while here in town, all swear by him and maintain that he is a real prince.

Mrs. Baker is a handsome young woman, of fine presence, splendid attainments, and all of the womanly graces—in fact a true daughter of the famous land of beautiful women. The people of Lamar join in wishing the young people happiness and good fortune.

Wayne Lodge Elects Officers.

Wayne R. A. M. No. 18, of W. Va., elected officers as follows: P. P. Lester, High Priest; J. C. Lambert, King; R. S. Sansom, Scribe; B. Mosser, Secretary; G. W. Workman, Treasurer; J. Lambert, Captain of Hosts; William Fry, Principle Sojourner; W. B. Garrett, Royal Arch Captain; E. L. Haws, Master 3rd Vell; F. W. Terrel, Master 2nd Vell; C. G. Fry, Master 1st Vell; G. T. Saunders, Sentinel.

Both Patriotic.

On Sunday morning last the Rev. Mr. Reid delivered a sermon in the M. E. church, South, based upon the text, "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." Bro. Reid and some of his congregation attended the M. E. church at night and listened to a discourse by Dr. Hanford from the same text, but along entirely different lines. Both were fine sermons.

State Anti-Saloon League.

On Sunday next Rev. L. S. Fuller, president of the Lexington district of the State Anti-Saloon League will deliver an address at the M. E. church, South in the morning. He will deliver another in the evening in one of the other Louisa churches, but which one has not yet been determined. Mr. Fuller's work will be in behalf of the league of which he is an officer.

The County S. S. Convention.

The Lawrence County Sunday School Association convened in this city Thursday morning in the M. E. church, South and will continue in session until noon Friday, be presented and discussed, and our people should be present as often as possible. Delegates and visitors are present from all parts of the county. Later the News will give a full report of this interesting meeting.

Know What It Is.

All who attended the "function" held at the hotel Savoy last Friday evening know to their inward satisfaction what a New England supper, with trimmings, is. The attendance was large, the social feature was enjoyable, and the treasury of the Aid Society, or whatever they may call it, of the M. E. church, South, is the gainers thereby.

A crowd of young Louisa people went to Clyffside Thursday evening to attend the dance.

TWO GIRLS

Drowned in Tug River While Bathing Last Saturday.

Nona Mooney and Nona Ferguson Lose Their Lives in Deep Water Near Warfield, Ky.

What is known as the "turn hole," a deep pool in Tug river, at the lower end of Warfield, Martin county, was the scene of an accident about two o'clock last Saturday afternoon whereby two young lives were lost and two families of the town were plunged into deepest grief and sorrow. Shortly before that hour a party of young girls had gone to the river for the purpose of bathing. They had not been in the water very long before loud cries from some of them attracted the attention of persons living close to the spot. It was at once seen that three of the girls had gone out beyond their depth and were struggling for life. Ben Pinson, whose heroic action should never be forgotten, rushed to the river and plunged into the water. He seized one of the girls and with great difficulty brought her to the shore. He again went to the rescue, but two of the girls, Nona Mooney, aged 15, daughter of Charles Mooney, of Warfield, and Nona Ferguson, aged 16, daughter of John Ferguson, had gone to death in the swirling waters of the muddy Tug. The sad intelligence of the untimely death of these young girls rapidly spread, and soon a large number of men were searching for the bodies. In about three quarters of an hour from the time the accident happened both bodies were found near the head of the shoal below the pool where the drowning occurred. All possible means of resuscitation were used for a long time, but the vital spark had been quenched. On the following day in the presence of a large number of people both bodies were buried in the same grave.

Johnson, the father of one of the girls, formerly lived in Wayne county, W. Va., and was an employee of the N. and W. railroad, on the Twelve Pole division. He lives with his family on the old Mark Dempsey place, a mile below the town of Warfield. Brave Ben Pinson very nearly lost his life in his effort to save the girl who was rescued. He was nearly exhausted before he reached the shore and would have been swept off his feet had he not been helped by a woman who waded out and caught him before he was carried away. The girl he saved was a sister of the Mooney girl who lost her life.

The "turn hole" got its name from the fact that owing to the narrowness of the Tug river at Warfield steamboats which had gone up the river to the town were compelled to back down to the deep, wide pool where this unfortunate accident occurred and turn there before continuing their downstream trip.

Wm. Yancey Erwin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Erwin, of Lexington, are in Louisa for a stay of two or three weeks. Mr. Erwin is a poet of much ability, evidenced by the works of his which are now before the public. "Wanetka and Other Poems" and "Original Rhymes and Acrostics" have won flattering comment from the press and the public wherever they have been introduced. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin have rooms at John Elswick's.

Church Census of Louisa.

Representatives of the various Louisa churches have taken a census of our citizens regarding their preference for denominations. The following is the result:

Mormon 1, Free-Will Baptist 1, Seventh Day Advent 2, Presbyterian 3, Congregationalist 2, Methodist Protestant 6, Roman Catholic 5, United Baptist 9, Episcopal 16, M. E. church, South 410, M. E. church 282, Missionary Baptist 392, Christian 144, no preference 44 not at home 9. The number of children under eighteen years of age in the town is 530. The number listed among the colored people of the three churches was 107.

Miss Wyson's Recital.

Miss Ruth Wyson, of Paintsville, appeared in Recital at Eldorado theatre, this city, last Saturday evening. The audience was quite large and the applause was generous, the lady's auditors testifying in this and in other ways to their appreciation of her efforts to please. Between the numbers of the program several of Louisa's musical amateurs rendered pleasing vocal and instrumental selections.

Miss Wyson had offered a handsome necklace to the young lady who sold the largest number of tickets of admission to her entertainment. After her last number Miss Wyson announced that Miss Istalina Fagg was the winner of the prize, and calling Miss Fagg to the front she presented the ornament to her.

Two Young People Married.

On last Saturday evening Creed Gearheart and Miss Ima Wilson, both of Louisa, went to the residence of Rev. Dr. Hanford, pastor of the M. E. church, and in the presence of a few witnesses were by him united in marriage. The groom is a worthy young man, 20 years old, and holds a first class teacher's certificate. The bride is a pretty and attractive girl, 17 years old, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garred S. Wilson. The young people have the best wishes of their many friends.

DEATH'S WORK.

The Summons Comes Suddenly to Mrs. Chas. Miller.—Other Deaths.

Death of Miss Vanhoose.
After a long illness caused by consumption Miss Puss Vanhoose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Vanhoose, of Fort Gay, Miss Puss Vanhoose died at her home in that place on Monday last. She suffered much during her sickness and death was a relief. She was buried on Tuesday near Fort Gay, after religious services conducted by the Rev. Mr. Bryan. The funeral was largely attended, many from this place and Paintsville being among the number. Those from Paintsville were Dr. I. R. Turner, brother of Mrs. Vanhoose, Jeff Vanhoose, Miss Sylvia Preston, Miss Rucha Kirk and Miss Thelma Meek.

Sudden Death.

Mrs. Charles Miller, who lived on Miller's branch, near Cadmus, this county, died suddenly at her home about dark on Wednesday evening. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death. Mrs. Miller was about 50 years of age and was the wife of Charles Miller, a leading merchant of the county. The burial occurred on Thursday near the home of William Riffe, of East Fork.

Rev. F. F. Shannon.

This old Louisa boy and well known Brooklyn preacher is expected to arrive here next week to spend at least a portion of his vacation with relatives. "Our Fred" enjoys these annual returns to the scenes of his boyhood days, and his pleasure is no greater than the pleasure felt by his Louisa friends when he comes to see them.

Phil. Fannin III.

Phil. Fannin, one of the best and most favorably known citizens of Normal, is at his home suffering with a very serious affliction. It was reported that his malady has been pronounced typhoid fever, by the physician. Should this prove to be correct it will evidently set very hard with the patient, owing to his advanced years.

The Fourth Celebrated.

The celebration of the Fourth of July in Louisa was not a very hilarious affair. The programme was gotten up at a late hour, with very little time for preparation, but if the weather had been favorable the crowd of visitors would have been large. Heavy rain fell all forenoon, but notwithstanding the decided dampness a goodly number from the country braved the inclement weather and came to town. About noon the clouds broke away and some features of the programme were presented.

Mr. Edgar Hager, of Ashland, had been secured to deliver an appropriate address, and about one o'clock a large audience assembled in the court house to hear him. He was introduced in fitting terms by Mr. H. C. Sullivan. Mr. Hager then spoke for nearly an hour, being listened to with close attention. Mr. Hager is a fine speaker, and his address following historical and patriotic lines, elicited much applause.

There was no parade, the bad weather preventing. Several balloons were sent up during the afternoon. Many names of visitors were drawn from a box, each person named drawing a prize. This was also an interesting feature. The Louisa brass band was much in evidence all day, doubtless contributing to the enjoyment of the crowd. In the evening a sale of ice cream for the benefit of the band was held in the court house park. The day passed with no disorder of any sort.

Marvin Compton Prichard.

Cards announcing the birth of a son to Dr. and Mrs. J. Allen Prichard, of Mavity, Boyd county. Name, Marvin Compton Prichard, weight, six pounds. Mrs. Prichard was for a long time the esteemed correspondent of the News for Buchanan.

Entertained At Finch.

Mrs. L. L. Herr entertained very handsomely at Finch on Thursday last week. There were six tables. The Finch Club of sixties and eight other ladies were the guests. The refreshment was dainty, delicious and devoured.

Usefully Employed.

It has been suggested that two of those replevin bonds might be usefully employed by the improvement committee in harvesting the large crop of dog-wenches or other native herbs now in our midst.

R. M. Curnuttie Hurt.

By reason of the bad, and a plank on a scaffold upon which he was at work, R. M. Curnuttie, a well known carpenter, is carrying his right arm in a sling. The injury is a very painful one.

Extraordinary Rainfall.

On last Tuesday afternoon it was probably the biggest fall of rain ever seen in Louisa, considering its duration. Flooded our streets. In the short space of thirty-five minutes the gauge showed a fall of one and eighty-five hundredths inches.

Eth 'Opia.

In a musical entertainment by this name, presented at the Richmond, Ky., opera house, Vincen Johnson, the bright young son of J. R. (Dick) Johnson, formerly this city, appeared as Daniel Donothing, a picaninny.

Holding Institutes.

Prof. Byington is in Martin county this week instructing the teachers' institute. He and Prof. Kennison will go to Pikeville next week to conduct the institute of that county.

A Bible Love Song.

The Rev. Dr. Hanford will continue his series of midsummer sermons by preaching a discourse with the above name next Sunday night. Interest in these sermons continues.

MILLIONS SPENT

On Frauds—Fake Consumption Cures Cheat Public out of $15,000,000.

Over $15,000,000 annually is poured into the coffers of those who exploit and advertise fake consumption cures, according to a statement issued today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis; and for this vast sum the victims receive nothing in return, but are often permanently injured and in the majority of cases cheated out of the chance for a real cure. Worse still, most of this money is paid by those who can least afford it.

The National Association, has investigated several hundred so-called "cures" and "treatments" for tuberculosis now being advertised throughout the country, and finds that more than $3,000,000 a year is being spent in soliciting the patronage of the public. On examination, it has been found that the great majority of these "cures" contain harmful and habit-forming drugs, such as morphine, opium and chloroform. None of them will cure consumption. The only cure for this disease that has ever been discovered is the combination of fresh air, rest and wholesome food. All of the "cures" that attempt to destroy the tubercle bacillus without these or to stop the progress of the disease in some mysterious way are branded as frauds, and impositions.

Three classes of cures are distinguished by the National Association. In the first class are included devices and drugs which can be bought for any sum ranging from ten cents to five dollars at a drugstore. The United States Department of Agriculture has just issued a bulletin in which some of the most used of these drugs and remedies are analyzed and condemned. The second class of cures includes the institutes, professors or companies of doctors, who for a consideration guarantee to cure consumption by some secret method of which they are the sole proprietors. There are nearly one hundred and fifty of these institute frauds in the United States, cheating the people out of millions of dollars annually.

In the third class of cures are placed a number of home made remedies, which either through ignorance or superstition have been advanced as treatments for tuberculosis. Some of these are onions, lemons, rattlesnake poison, coal dust, lime dust, pigs' blood, dog oil, milk strippings, and even alcohol. These will not cure consumption declares the National Association. No drug, gas or other material has yet been discovered, which, when eaten, inhaled or injected into the body, will kill the germs of tuberculosis. Fresh air, which contains more oxygen than any substance known, will destroy the germs of tuberculosis, if it is breathed continuously for a long enough period, and if rest and wholesome food are employed at the same time to build up the body.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

What to do With a Bad Temper.

Starve it. Give it nothing to feed on. When something tempts you to grow angry, do not yield to temptation. It may for a minute or two be difficult to control yourself; but try it. Force yourself to do nothing, to say nothing, and the rising temper will be obliged to go down because it has nothing to hold it up. The person who can and does control tongue, hand, heart, in face of great provocations, is a him or her as such, but God does. The Bible says that "he that ruleth his spirit is better than he that taketh a city." What is gained by yielding to temper? For a minute there is a feeling of relief; but soon comes a sense of sorrow and shame, with a wish that the temper had been controlled. Friends are separated by a bad temper, trouble is caused by it, and pain is given to others as well as to self. The pain, too, often lasts for days, even years—sometimes for life. An outburst of temper is like the bursting of a steam-bomber. It is impossible to tell beforehand what will be the result. The evil may never be remedied. Starve your temper. It is not worth keeping alive. Starve it.

Woman's Voice.

Women claim that they ought to have a voice in everything. If there is anything on earth woman's voice does not penetrate it can safely be set down that it is impervious to sound. Woman's voice reaches to the sky, descends to the deepest cavities of earth, penetrates the kitchen, cellar, garret and seven bed rooms, reaching across the street and disturbing the neighbors. She already has a voice in politics, science, art, religion, business, and in domestic affairs it is the supreme law of the land. Did you ever hear Mrs. Lease? Could you help yourself if she was in your township? Is there a civilized community on earth that has not heard Susan B. Anthony? If so, name it and it is yours. What more do they want? Give them the ballot and they'll never be satisfied without the box and poll books. God created man and then women. The last job was the best. Woman is the salt of the earth, and sugar and cream and strawberries. Without her all is vanity. Man is her voluntary slave. For her he delves and toils and fights the battles of the country and legislates in congress and stands up in the street cars, and runs in debt, and finally dies a miserable death from eating restaurant hash while she is at the sewing circle, the club or out collecting money for foreign missionaries, and adding to the want and squalor at home. It is no use to give women advice; she won't hear you. The beginning of the 20th century finds women combining in grand plot to take the earth and fence it off for their own exclusive benefit. Woman's kingdom has come and man who has ever been her humble servant, in spurned with contempt from the foot of the throne. He may cry aloud for deliverance, but the hollow echo from the nearest club room is the only answer. Men and brethren, this is tough.

Use Your Guest Voice.

The advice here given is easier understood than taken. But by diligent practice and a kind temper—and a strong sense of duty—one may from the habit of talking every day at home in the tones one uses when "company" comes.

You often hear boys and girls say words when they are vexed, that sound as if made up of a snarl, a whine and a bark. Such a voice often expresses more than the heart feels.

Often even in mirth one gets a voice or tone that is sharp and it sticks to him through life. Such persons get a sharp voice for home use, and keep their best voice for those they meet elsewhere.

We would say to all boys and girls, "Use your best voice at home." Watch it by day, as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you than the best pearl in the sea. A kind voice is a lark's song to a hearth and home. Train it to sweet tones now and it will keep in tune through life.

Cellibacy. We applied the cellibacy of a multitude of women, who, rather than make unfit selection of a husband, have made none at all. It has not been a lack of opportunity for marital contract on their part, but their own culture and refinement and their exalted idea of what a husband ought to be, have caused their decline. They have seen so many women marry imbeciles, or ruffians, or incipient sots, or lifetime incapables, or magnificent nothings, or men who before marriage were angelic and afterward diabolical, that they have been alarmed and stood back. They say so many boats go into the maelstrom that they steered into other waters. Better for a woman to live alone, though she live a thousand years, than to be annexed to one of these masculine failures with which society is surfeited. The patron saint of almost every woman, and among all the families of family circle is some such unmarried woman, and among all the families of cousins she moves around, and her coming in each house is the morning, and her going away is the night.

Being Beautiful.

Every one of our girls likes to be as beautiful as she can. That is right and proper, but she must remember that it is not alone the smile of the pretty face, the tilt of the delicate complexion, the luring glances of the eye, the beauty and symmetry of the person, nor the costly dress or decorations that compose a girl's loveliness. It is far more to be found in her pleasing deportment, her chaste conversation, the sensibility and purity of her thoughts, her affable and open disposition, her sympathy with those in adversity, her comfort and relief to the distressed, and above all, her real companionship, that constitute true loveliness.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Coal Mining in Kentucky.

The pleasant fact is made known that coal mining in Kentucky is on a safer basis than the same calling in any other State.

With this safety the production increases. The production for 1909 was nearly half a million tons greater than 1908 and 140,000 tons less than the banner year of 1907.

The total selling value of coal at the mines was an average in 1909 of 94.19c per ton, a decrease of 5.51 from the price of 1908. The average in the western district shows a decrease of nearly 8 cents a ton, or 7.92c. It is manifest, we think, that the coal miner and the miners themselves are not getting very much of the increased cost of coal to the consumer.

The cost in life is shown by the statement that for each death by accident in nad out of the mines 302,828 tons of coal were produced. For each 1,000 persons employed there was 1.81 from deaths by accident. In 1908 the deaths by accident in 1,000 were 2,149, and for each death only 250,000 tons of coal were produced.

A Mother Sent Her Son to the Store for Change

She gave him a ten-dollar bill, and told him to get one five in change—one dollar in small pieces. The merchant gave the boy a five-dollar bill, four ones, a half and two quarters. On the way home the boy lost a quarter. It cost 25 cents to get the $10 bill changed. A checking account would have saved this trouble and loss. Ask us about the advantages of a checking account. We'll cheerfully explain.

UNDERWOOD
Standard Typewriter

ARE INVARIABLY POINTS IN WHICH THE UNDERWOOD IS THE RECOGNIZED SUPERIOR.

It originated Visible Writing - it first introduced Built-in-Tabulators and Modern Bookkeeping Appliances. In all of these important improvements, other standard makes have gradually fallen into line.

The business public, however, prefers the machine that has led the way, because it stands to reason that it is always far ahead of "Trailers." Let us show you the points of difference between UNDERWOOD and its imitators and you will understand why.

We are authorized to announce
MORDECAI WILLIAMS,
of Boyd county, as a candidate for Congress, Ninth District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce
W. J. FIELDS,
Carter county, as a candidate for Congress, subject to the action of the Democratic party of the Ninth District.

I desire to announce myself as a candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Congress from the Ninth Congressional District. I was a candidate for the nomination before the convention two years ago which nominated James N. Kehoe, and following that convention, it was almost unanimously conceded that I was the logical candidate and entitled to the nomination at the hands of my party this year. I have always been a zealous party worker, and if nominated, will conduct an energetic campaign for election and if elected will devote all my time, energies and talent to the office and diligently work for the interests of the people of my District.

EDGAR B. HAGER,
Boyd County.

Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller, of the United States Supreme Court died at Bar Harbor of heart failure Monday morning. The death of the Chief Justice was not expected. Gov. Charles E. Hughes, of New York, who has been appointed an associate justice of the Supreme Court, is mentioned as the probable successor of the late Chief Justice.

Persons were killed, three fatally injured, and others injured in a collision between the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and a freight train. The freight train was using the Hamilton & Dayton tracks to a blockade on the road to a wreck. Misunderstanding is said to have caused the disaster.

Triumphed over a whitey in what will probably be the biggest pugilistic encounter ever take place in the United States. Jack A. Johnson, of Galveston, Texas, defeated James J. Jeffries, of California, at Reno, Nevada, in fifteen rounds of a glove contest scheduled for forty-five rounds, thereby retaining the title of heavyweight champion of the world. The defeat of Jeffries, hitherto unwhipped, brought surprise to the sporting world like that when John L. Sullivan succumbed to the youthful jabs of James J. Corbett at New Orleans in 1892. Jeffries was badly beaten and the negro came out of the contest with hardly a bruise. The fight carried a fortune to both the winner and the loser.

Rioting broke out in Eastern, Northern, Southern and Western cities after the announcement of the fight.

HYMNS OF GLORY.

"Hymns of Glory" is the title of the best collection of sacred songs on the market for Sunday school and church use. It is the book used exclusively by Rev. Walt Holcomb in his evangelistic meetings. A lot of them have been placed on sale at Conley's store in Louisa at 25c each.

Miss Ella Hayes is still improving.

Mrs. Cynthia Ball is getting along very well now.

Dr. W. A. Hayes, who has been located at Eyenton, W. Va., for some time, has changed his place of residence to Sharon, W. Va.

Mrs. Minnie Berry, while hoeing corn in the garden the other day, accidentally hit her little girl, Lella, in the forehead with the hoe, cutting a place about three quarters of an inch long, and while excited she filled the cut place with soot. Dr. J. O. Moore was called, but he failed to remove the soot. It had gotten dry when the doctor arrived and it was impossible to remove it without punishing the child very bad, it will no doubt leave a very ugly scar.

It is believed that Mrs. Eunice Hale will soon get her pension for the minor children of her deceased husband, Ira Hale.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Louisa People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills. For Louisa kidney sufferers, Have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Louisa people who have been cured to stay cured.

Mrs. Sarah Pigg, Main street, Louisa, Ky., says: "I suffered from many distressing symptoms of kidney trouble. My back was the weakest spot and the dull, heavy pains through my loins were almost unbearable. I was weak, tired and devoid of ambition and often was annoyed by headaches and dizzy spells. Irregular passages of the kidney excretions also bothered me and I felt like giving up. Doan's Kidney Pills were at length brought to my notice and I began their use. Before long the kidney secretions were regulated and the other symptoms of my trouble disappeared. I strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to my friends."

(Statement given June 27, 1906.)

On June 22, 1909, Mrs. Pigg added to the above: "I can safely say that Doan's Kidney Pills cure kidney trouble permanently. During the past year and a half, I have not had the least return of this complaint."

THE SAVIOR'S TEACHINGS BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

WITHOUT A PARABLE HE SPAKE NOT.

July 10.

"The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life."—John 6:63.

WITHOUT a parable spake he not unto the people. What the prophet had declared of him was true, "He shall open his mouth in parables and in dark sayings." It is important that we remember this. Many noble Christian people have inferred that our Lord's words were all simple, and that they presented the truth in a manner easily understood by everybody. Nothing is further from the truth. If our Lord's parables and dark sayings be taken as plain, literal statements of truth, they will lead to all kinds of errors and misapprehensions. Let us remember, therefore, the Apostle's declaration, "Without a parable spake he not unto the people."

There is absolutely nothing in the words of Jesus without a deep significance. How many have stumbled over our Lord's parables by taking them to be literal statements of facts! How absurd the conclusion drawn from the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, for instance. How absurd to conclude that simply because a man was rich, he must suffer through all eternity. How equally absurd to interpret the poor man Lazarus, who lay at the rich man's gate, as representing, literally, poor and diseased beggars. How unreasonable to think that only such as have had an experience of this kind, with dogs to lick their sores, and hungering for the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table, would experience the joys of heaven, according to the Divine program. How foolish to think of Abraham's bosom, which could hold only two or three, as being the portion of blessing for only a handful of beggars.

Truly these various statements of the parable shine out in beauty and consistency as we get the true light upon them, and see their symbolic meaning and application. We have already presented the true interpretation of this parable, and may do so again at some future time, for the benefit of new readers. We merely demonstrate now the fact that our Lord spoke to the people always in parables and dark sayings.

Note afresh the parable of the wheat and the tares, the gathering of the former into the garner and the burning of the latter. Neither represents literal experiences. In the parable the wheat is not literal wheat, the tares are not literal tares. The wheat symbolizes the inheritors of the Kingdom; the tares symbolize the offspring of error—children of the wicked one. The gathering into the barn of safety symbolizes the glorification of the Church on the spirit plane, and precedes the shining forth of the sons of God in the glory of the Millennial Kingdom, for the blessing of the groaning creation; as the Apostle declares, "The whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together, waiting for the manifestation of the sons of God." The whole creation is waiting for the shining forth of the sons of God in the Kingdom, and their shining forth in truth and righteousness will scatter all the darkness of sin and error and awaken and revivify the world of mankind.

Eventually all the willingly obedient may enjoy the blessings of eternal life. On the other hand, the description of the burning of the tares, instead of referring to the literal burning, has, evidently, a symbolic significance—it means the destruction of the tare class—not their destruction as individuals, but as "tares," as imitations of the "wheat" class.

How glad we are to find the key to these symbolic statements—these parables. How glad we are that by the use of this key the parabolic figures become reasonable and beautiful. What a silver lining there is to the dark cloud of trouble which is now looming up before the world! How glad God's people must be to learn that just beyond the clouds and shadows comes the glorious Millennial Day.

The parable of "the sheep and the goats," taken literally, has caused confusion to many. They think of the separation of the sheep and the goats as now in progress, failing to notice the Scriptural declaration that the parable shall find its application "when the Son of man shall come in his glory and all his holy angels (messengers) with him. Then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory and before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another as the shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats." We thus see that the application of the parable belongs to the Millennial age. All through that age the work of Christ and the Church, his Bride, seated with him upon his throne, will be a work of blessing to the world of mankind. And the manner in which those blessings will be received will demonstrate the sheep-like or goat-like character of every individual of the human family. The sheep-like will come to the right hand position of favor; the goat-like, to the left hand position of disfavor. The conclusion of the thousand-year Judgment day will bring the expression of the Lord's favor towards the sheep-like, rewarding them with eternal life, and the expression of his disfavor towards the goat-like, destroying them in the "second death." This is symbolically represented by the statement, "Depart ye cursed into the lasting fire (a figure of destruction) prepared for Satan and his messengers (followers)." The reward of the righteous will thus be everlasting life. The "everlasting punishment" of the unrighteous will be everlasting death, for "The wages of sin is death and the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."—Romans 6:23.

Evidently some wise and gracious purpose stands connected with the hiding or secreting at present of the Divine purpose from mankind in general. While the Scriptures declare it is a mark of special favor to the Lord's people that they are made acquainted with the Divine Purposes, yet nowhere do they declare that all those from whom God's plans are secreted are doomed to eternal torture, or to everlasting destruction. Thus our Lord Jesus prayed: "I thank thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent and hast revealed them unto babes. Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight."

Had the hiding of the Divine counsel from mankind signified eternal tortures for those from whom it was hidden, there surely would have been no ground for thanking the heavenly Father for this act. We can thank him, however, that although many of the worldly wise are not privileged to know of his glorious plans, nevertheless those plans are sure. For the world to have known of the divine purposes in advance would doubtless have been injurious, because in their blindness they would have attempted to thwart these purposes and therefore would have gotten themselves into a worse condition of condemnation.

Our text shows that however dark and parabolic were our Lord's teachings, nevertheless, rightly understood, his message is one that is spiritually helpful and life-giving to those who can and do understand it. It is this quality of our Lord's message which makes the religion of the Bible different from that of all the heathen. It is a message of life as well as a message of holiness. It is a message of forgiveness as well as a message of condemnation. It is a message of love as well as a message of justice. His wonderful words of life are charming, beautiful, forceful. We may read them over year after year and we see still more beauty in them, still deeper significance, and that in proportion to our own growth in grace, our growth in knowledge, and in the spirit of our Master.

BARNROCK, KY.

Our farmers are all busy with their crops. Everybody is interested in the raising of tobacco this year and most of the tobacco crops are fine.

A. M. Lyon has begun a large tobacco barn, which will be completed soon.

NOTES OF THE FARM.

COLUMN OF INTERESTING NEWS THAT WILL BENEFIT FARMERS.

The Poultry Yard.

Let other folks do the fancy poultry business. You stick to practical work.

Keep the brooder perfectly clean, and always feed the chicks in a clean place if you want them to live and thrive.

The baby ducks are just as well off, in fact better, without water to swim in until they have grown their crop of feathers.

Keep your hens from straying over on the land of your neighbor. Be particular about this if he has any crop growing there.

Give the houses a good cleaning, and plow or spade up the yards. Dirty houses breed vermin, and polluted soils are incubators for the gape worm.

Give the turkey hen and her brood at coop large enough for the mother to move about and stand erect in, and you won't be so apt to have bad luck.

Guinea fowls will now be laying, and a watch must be kept on their nests, as it is their nature to hide them. The eggs had better be hatched by hens.

It's annoying, perhaps, just about supper time, to have to stop to wash dirty eggs when the hen breaks one, but this is a task that must not be put off until tomorrow.

If fowls must run at large on range over a farm, by all means keep one breed, and give them all the time, knowledge and attention possible. You will have something of which you may be proud, and that will profit you financially, as well.

Because hens are out on the land now do not therefore think they do not need shells and such things. They may not be able to find a bit of that kind of food in all their travels. A shortage here is apt to mean a shortage in eggs with good shells on them.

This is the month that gapes are more or less prevalent on heavy soils. Chicks should not be brooded on the same ground that was accorded to chicks afflicted with the disease last year. Place them on ground that was never before used by poultry.

When hens begin to lay soft-shelled eggs it is time to ask yourself, "Where am I failing to give them the food they need?" Don't be satisfied until you can answer that question. Almost always it is due to a lack of shell-making material.

Wheat bran, crushed egg-shells, cut bone, broken mortar and oyster shells are fine for making eggs with good solid shells.—Farm Journal.

Good Farming.

Because of the inability to stir the surface completely with large shovels without running them very deeply, they are fast falling into disuse with progressive corn growers. The small shovel does a more correct average quality of work throughout the season, although where persistent early rains delay cultivation and befoul the land so that a desperate fight with weeds is imperative they may be used to advantage. Good farming with its elimination of weed seed from the soil obviates the necessity for such heroic measures. The surface cultivator that carries a sharp blade under every square inch of the surface soil is also an effective weed fighter under all conditions and it spares the corn roots from disturbance. For effectively stirring the soil to some depth at the first cultivation and still do shallow work later in the season, many successful growers favor the gangs carrying three shovels. Four shovels on a side do scarcely any smoother job of work and they catch trash more persistently.

Whatever the type of cultivator, the operator should carry a vivid mental picture of a soil crowded full of corn roots, increasing in numbers as the season advances. It is not a serious thing to cut off one of these, but to repeat that 10,000 times to the acre, or 100,000 times a day, is nearly as bad as taking ear after ear from the crib and throwing it away. An ignorant man turned loose with a cultivator in big corn can practically destroy a load of corn a day in this way.

Fences in good repair add materially to the appearance of the farm.

A Study in Ruminat.

There is enough about the dairy question to challenge the thought and brain of the strongest intellects of the land. The farm boy doesn't need to rush off to the law school for something large enough to fill his mind. He can find it every day on the farm. Here is one:

H. A. W. writes Wallace's Farmer this bit of good thinking under the head of a "Study in Ruminat."

The herdsman of a big dairy farm told us several days ago that the first thing he fed his cows in the morning was hay. We asked him why, and he said to us, "So that they can throw up their feed easier later on for the cud chewing; if you feed a cow grain the first thing in the morning it will lie heavy and soggy on the stomach and the cow acts uncomfortable and discontented all day."

Hay, especially rather coarse hay, gives something that a cow's stomach muscles can grip and throw up to the mouth when the cow gets ready to re-chew her food. Placid cud chewing has long been a symbol in the dairy of contentment and big returns in the milk pail. If by feeding hay first thing in the morning we can further a cow's contentment and increase her milk flow it will pay to give it a trial.

The herdsman also made the statement that he had seen when in England many calves die because they had been fed June grass hay, a soft, fine hay. And the reason which the herdsman gave for this was that the tender stomach muscles of the calves couldn't get a hold of the soft June grass hay to throw it up to the mouth. Therefore he always fed his calves a coarse type of roughage. Furthermore, for the same reason, he held that calves should be fed whole grain instead of the ground.

Watch Results.

The day of haphazy and guessing in any kind of business has passed and the successful man is the one who knows and watches every detail and which one is producing a profit and which one is a loss. So it should be with the poultry keeper. He should know every hen and what she is doing. If non-producing she should be sent to the market at once. It costs money to feed her and she is only lessening the average profit from the remainder of the flock. A few hens in a flock that do not lay, will make the whole flock unprofitable and will often discourage the owner, and make him think there is no money in the poultry business. After a short time, one can tell which hens are doing their duty, and he should lose no time in getting rid of the drones. If he can do so, if not he should send them to the market.

When to Begin Feed.

Many poultry breeders make the mistake of feeding young chicks when only a few hours old, and by so doing disarrange the digestive organs and bring about diarrhoea and other kindred disorders. Nature, in her inimitable way, has prepared the chick so that it does not need any food for thirty-six or forty-eight hours. The chicks need to be kept warm and quiet, but not given any food or drink.

After they are thirty-six hours old they should have stale bread or crackers, or rolled oats, slightly dampened with milk or water, in which a little chick-size grit has been mixed. This should then be fed about four or five times a day for the first week, then they will eat cracked corn or wheat the same as older fowls.

Notes.

For want of a system many poultry men are failures. Keep a strict account of every cost, and do all your work at regular times and you will then find a profit at the end of each year.

Don't try to keep more than one breed, you can then give more room and more care to that one.

Neglect is the worst enemy to the poultry yard. At this season one is apt to feel that all the work is done, when in reality it has just begun. They say "A woman's work is never done," so it is in the poultry yard.

Make the hens come up to the scratch and keep them at it. The busy hen keeps the egg basket full.

Incubators will soon pay for themselves by allowing the hens to keep on laying instead of hatching and raising broods.

Repairing Orchard Trees.

An excellent practice noted in well-kept Ohio orchards is the treatment of trees which are splitting or threatening to split from their burden of fruit or as a result of heavy wind.

There are purchased what is known to the trade as "lag" or "coach" screws—large, square-headed screws which can be gotten in various sizes. Those preferred are six inches in length and three-eighths of an inch in diameter, which I find are priced at $1.25 per 100, or 20 cents per dozen. A blacksmith turns a hook at the head-ends of the screws. Holes are bored in the two parts of the tree which are separating, in which the screws are solidly turned, connecting them with a heavy wire cable. The screws should be given such a position that there will be a "straight pull" on them, thus eliminating danger of splitting the branch. The cable is formed by using two "rounds" of heavy, galvanized wire from hook to hook, which is then twisted up taut by inserting between the wires a piece of buggy spring or other flat piece of iron or wood, and turning until the divisions of the tree are brought in close contact at the point of separation.—By E. H. Ballou.

Garrett B. Wall Promoted.

Richmond, Va., June 29.—An official circular issued from the office of President Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, today announces the promotion of Garrett B. Wall to Assistant to the President. Mr. Wall has been for years Real Estate Agent in charge of real estate taxation and industrial development along the Chesapeake and Ohio. He joined the forces of the road in June '89 as a clerk in the office of then General Manager Harahan. Mr. Wall is one of the best known and most popular railroad men in the south and wherever his promotion is made known will cause pleasure to his friends. Mr. Wall is generally regarded as a strong man with broad principles and a well established reputation for fair dealing, and, while a native of Kentucky, graduated from Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va. Mr. Wall's promotion becomes effective July 1st.

Polluted Water.

Dr. Frost, who was sent by the Government to make an examination and scientific study of the water of Tug river, has made his report. Dr. Frost made a bacteriological study of the water of the river, and also of numerous springs and wells in Williamson and found all highly polluted. The only water that he found free from bacteria being that from the deep drilled well at the Williamson Coal Company's plant. Some of the local wells showed almost as high a degree of pollution as the river water.

proposals and it is not likely that he can be induced to become a candi-

Some of the leading Democrats of Huntington planned to way-lay Judge Wilkinson there on his way to his home from this city but he heard of the dark plot and side-stepped the wily ones. Instead of departing from Williamson at the usual time Judge Wilkinson left here on No. 3, reaching Huntington and taking a trap for Logan before the politicians were astir for the day.

For several weeks prominent Democrats have been booming Judge Wilkinson for congress and their efforts met with hearty response. The only damper was the declination of the judge to accept any political honors.

The democrats claim that the Logan jurist is the strongest man with the people in this district, not even excepting such popular men as Bill Thompson, George I. Neal and Rankin Wiley. It is certain that no man has more good friends

posed of the counties of Kanawha,
Boone and Logan, have asked him

Census Of Children.

News dispatches from Frankfort announce that while the census of white school children has increased nearly 25,000 in nine years, the number of colored children of school age has decreased for the same period nearly 15,000. The weekly reports from the City Health Office show an astounding-ly large number of deaths among colored people, disproportionate to their population, and a remarkably small number of births. For years the health officers attributed the small number of births to the theory that many births occurred without the aid of physicians and in their ignorance as to the law the colored people failed to report them to the health office, but there is no basis for that theory except the merest supposition.
Whether the negro is dying out or is leaving Kentucky for greener fields is not certain, but in this State his numbers are diminishing.

PAINTSVILLE ITEMS.

NEWS FROM THE ENTERPRIS-ING COUNTY SEAT OF
JOHNSON.

(Paintsville Herald.)

Few towns the size of Paints-ville can boast of a more liberal support rendered the churches. There are five churches in Paintsville four of which have salaried pastors. The United Baptist church does not pay its pastor a salary, as it is contrary to the doctrines of that church to have a salaried pastor.
The two Methodist churches, the Missionary Baptist church and the Christian church each pay their pastor a handsome salary. In addition to this considerable money is expended each year on repairs and improvements on churches and parsonages. In all, there is paid out each year at least $5,000 for the support of the churches and Sunday schools in our town.

It is practically settled that Hon. W. T. Stafford, of Jennies creek, this county, will be a candidate for Congress in this district and his name will appear on the election ballot in November. It is not yet known under what party name or device Mr. Stafford will have his name placed. Some of his enemies, so he says, has been circulating the report that he would run as a Socialist, but this he denies most vehemently. He says he has always been a Republican and is still a Republican, but is opposed to Taftism, Cannonism, Aldrichism, etc., and stands for the people as against the trusts, etc.

Mr. Stafford is a farmer and a splendid speaker, a good mixer, loves to play the political game, and his entry will add interest to the coming campaign.

Mrs. Jemima Sublett has filed that has arisen between them.

Last Wednesday another child became the victim of accidental death on account of being left at home by its parents under the care of a slightly older brother. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Case, whose home is at Harold, Floyd county, were in the fields overseeing a number of farm hands at work during the forenoon, and had left the children, three and ten years old, to themselves at home. Before starting to the field, Mr. Case, who is a constable hung his revolver upon a nail in the wall, and not thinking that any harm could possibly come from it, departed in company with his wife. During their absence, the eldest son climbed upon a chair and succeeded in dislodging the deadly toy from the nail, at this time the three year old child was lying sleeping upon the floor. By some means not exactly known, the weapon in the hand of the larger boy was discharged and the bullet entered at the left side of the face of the sleeping child, and ranging downward, came out just below the right armpit. Death was not instantaneous, but ensued in about ten minutes.

SOME VIRTUES OF THE MOUNTAIN PEOPLE.

Louis Landrum, editor of the Danville Messenger, in writing of the recent meeting of the Kentucky Press Association in Middles-boro, registers this faithful and just appreciation of the mountain section of the state and the noble and generous character of the real mountaineer:

"The meeting of the newspaper men at Middlesboro last week will bring about more good for the state of Kentucky than any other plan that could have been devised. There is no disputing the fact that the people of the Blue Grass, the Pen-nyrle and other sections of the state, look upon the mountains of Kentucky as a lawless section. Now why? That's the question. The newspaper people went into the mountain section and were entertained by those people. Did they have the scales removed from their eyes? Ask any one present and let him tell you. At one of the numerous functions in honor of the editors, we heard one of the Middlesboro speakers cover the question: He said that when two of their people—that is the mountain people—had a misunderstanding, they got their guns and settled it right then and there. There was no hobnobbing about it, no law suits or petty quarreling—they simply got their shooting irons and settled it. Now, said he, have you editors ever heard of a crime committed in the mountains like the Kellner case in Louisville? Have you ever heard of a case of defalcation, of embezzlement or such rascality up here? Have you ever heard of a case of horse stealing up here? Have you ever heard of any licensed houses of ill fame up here?

Have you ever heard of a case of seduction or betrayal up here? Have you ever heard of a man falling to provide for his family, or of any suits for divorce on our court dockets? Take your daily papers and read the number of criminal cases in the police courts of your cities, yes, bring it right down to your own home towns. Compare our police court records with yours.
Now, which should be termed the lawless section? The words quoted above should be printed in every paper in the state. What he said covers the case, yet there is another reason why that section is frowned upon and that is caused by the newspapers printing in glaring headlines every little difficulty between two men that take place up there. We are shown where, in the last two weeks, the papers had printed blood-curdling stories of killings in the mountains, when, in fact, the trouble was between insignificant people, all of the lower class, and, had it happened in Louisville or Cincinnati, the papers of that city would not have given it a three-line notice of the happening.
So after all it's the fault of the newspapers and the members of our Press Association had this brought before them so strongly that we look for a revolution in the publication of the stuff which has done so much to injure the interests of the mountains of Kentucky. The people up there are the typical Kentuckians. There is not a man in the mountains of Kentucky who would not give you the coat off his back if you needed it. Now, let's be honest and figure out how many we know right here in the Blue Grass who would steal the coat off your back if he had half a strong, if you please but it sometimes is a good plan to call a spade a spade, and in this instance we are not going to call it a garden tool.

A Price Reduction Event of Importance--Choice of any Ready-to-Wear Suit $20--Regular Price is $25 to $35. All Suits $22 or under 25 per cent off.

The morning of Tuesday, July 5th, we put into effect this reduction of prices on men's light weight two and three piece suits--which means our full spring and summer stock at your service--and at prices certainly low enough to clear them out rapidly.

It being against our policy to carry from one season to another any suit necessitates a special price reduction plan of this character--the final result of which is, the satisfaction of giving to our customers this ADVANTAGE in buying a summer suit right at vacation season with plenty of hot weather ahead in which to derive ample service from a light weight suit--plus the advantage of cleaning up our stock for the following season.

NOTE THE PRICES AGAIN---

$20 buys any $35, $32, $30, $28 or $25 Suit. Suits $22 and under are 2 per cent. off. Youths' Suits, second floor, 16 to 20 year sizes, choice for $12.50 worth $25, $22, $20, $18 and $16.50. Suits $15 and under are 25 per cent. off.

The fact that young men's suits change oftener in STYLE than MEN'S, makes it even more necessary that we clean out every suit in this department--hence this extreme lowering of prices.

A 25 PER CENT. REDUCTION ON BOYS' SUITS

Including KICKER BOCKERS, SAILOR and RUSSIAN woolen suits--an occasion that every mother should take advantage of to supply the boy with an extra GOING AWAY and early SCHOOL SUIT at a liberal discount.

To Illustrate The Savings

Hughes, of Huntington; Mrs. Clarence Lebus, of Lexington, wife of the president of the Burley Tobacco Society; Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Vinson, of Huntington; Mrs. Mary A. Klapp, Mrs. John W. Langley, Pikeville. The party was met at the depot Saturday night by the Clarkes and by the Pikeville Concert band, who played "My Old Kentucky Home" as they alighted from the train. The guests all returned to their homes yesterday accompanied by Mrs. Clarke.

The Pikeville base ball team played Greenough yesterday afternoon in the west Pikeville grounds making a score of five to four.

Mrs. N. J. Auxier, who is ill of typhoid fever, is no better. Her condition, which is very grave is absolutely unchanged. Mrs. J. M. Bowling is very ill of fever and Dr. Thompson says that this is only the beginning of an epidemic that is sure to follow on account of the filthy condition of the streets. The council will take no steps whatsoever toward rectifying matters and conditions are very alarming as the board of health is handicapped by the city fathers, whom no amount of persuasion has so far caused to see the necessity for action.

Master Jack Johnson, who is ill of fever is very much improved. Mackenzie R. Todd, State Inspector accompanied by his first assistant E. G. Floyd, is here from Louisville looking after business.

Mrs. W. W. Gray has returned from a protracted visit to relatives at Bowling Green.

A great stir has been made here for some time past on account of the Pack-Prentzman wedding, that took place at Heller last Thursday evening. Mr. Pack, of Ashland, wedded Miss Edna L. Prentzman, who had been engaged in church work at Heller for nearly four years. There was a great commotion over this wedding, which was participated in by the big coal operators and their wives. The plans were all carried out beautifully, and this wedding was the biggest and most sensational event that has ever been on tap in that vicinity. Revs. B. Neal and F. C. Button, Mrs. D. Sutton, Miss Mary Belle Darnall, Mrs. W. H. Flannery and Dea. Flannery made up the Pikeville party, who attended.
